INSPECTOR JOSEPH AFTER THOSE ICE SCALES

Inspector of Weights and Measures, W. Joseph advises householders to

T. W. Joseph advises householders to require the ice man to weigh ice in their presence. He said yesterday that many complaints have been made to him about short weights, some of the complainants having not been backward in calling the ice men various kinds of a rascal.

According to Mr. Joseph, the greatest trouble he has found is with the scales. He explained that he had confiscated thirty pairs of scales this summer. He said he does not believe the ice men are as dishonest as some claim they are, but the scales are "awful liars."
